HOST TO WILSON AT PEACE MEET

PRINCE JOACHIM MURAT

Prince Joachim Murat, whose portrait is above, has tendered his town house at 28 Rue de Monceau, Paris, for the use of President Wilson during his stay in the French capital. Prince Joachim's father was born in New Jersey, but he is a descendant of Napoleon's sister.

Third district court. Petition was also filed by the executors for letters of administration.

Five sons of the late churchman are named in the will as his heirs and executors of the will. To them he left his entire estate, explaining that provision either had been made or would be made with regard to others, including his wives, who might be entitled to a share in his property.

Brief in text, the will lays upon his sons as executors a concise instruction that they are to turn over, at the earliest possible opportunity, to the trustee of the Mormon church, or other proper person or corporation all of the property held by the late president of the church for that institution, either as trustee in trust or in his own name.

The petition for letters of administration gives the estimate of the estate as not being in excess of $69,000. Of this $22,000 is represented in real estate holdings in Salt Lake and Washington counties, Utah, and in Canada, according to the petition. The remainder, consisting of stocks, bonds and money, is set down at $46,725.86.

The sons named as the heirs and executors of the will are Joseph F. Smith, Jr., David A. Smith, Joseph A. Smith, Alvin F. Smith and Willard R. Smith.

The will bears the date of November 9, ten days before the death of President Smith. It is witnessed by Charles W. Nibley, Anthony H. Lund and John Wells. The following explanatory paragraph occurs early in the document:

"My reason for not giving, bequeathing or devising herein some portion of my estate to my beloved wives and others of my children is that I have already given and delivered or will give and deliver to them what I consider the full share and portion of my estate that they should each receive, and I have intentionally omitted to name any of them as legatees or devisees in and by the terms of this will."

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE IS TO BE ACTIVE

A letter of instructions from the national council of defense to local councils has been received by Dr. E. M. Conroy, relating to the following matters:

That cases where unwarranted allowances and allotments are being received by relatives, though the soldier has returned home, be brought to the attention of the war department.

The bureau of war risk insurance has requested the council of national defense, through its state and county organization during the demobilization period. In handling four million applicants, it was stated that a few mistakes are bound to be made.

Information is asked of persons included in the three following cases:

Cases where the dependents of former soldiers and sailors are still receiving payments, after the soldiers or sailors have been discharged.

Cases where persons are receiving allowances who are not entitled to them under the provisions of the act as outlined in our former bulletin No. 116.

Cases where women named as the wives of men but not their wives are receiving allowances and cases where allowances are being received in the names of children who are not living.

BRITISH OFFICERS GOING TO SIBERIA

Sixty-eight British officers, en route to Vladivostok, were guests at the local cañon Monday afternoon. These men were members of the Imperial regiment of London and are going to assume their duties at the head of British troops stationed in Siberia. A large supply of war materials which are being held by the Japanese at present, as a guard against their confiscation by the Bolsheviks, will be taken over by these British forces.

HEARST A FRIEND OF THE GERMANS

Disclosures in Washington Prove the Newspaper Man Aided America's Enemies.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Bielaski, in his statement yesterday before the senate committee, disclosed that Hearst's attitude toward Germany was praised by Dr. Fuhrer in a report to the German government. After Great Britain put a boycott on the Hearst publications, Fuhrer said the policy of the papers because more bitterly antagonistic to that country than before.

"The Hearst papers are not to be classified as blind champions of Germany," Fuhrer said in the report. "Many of the articles are not favorable to us. But for that reason they are much more effective than they could possibly be if pronouncedly pro-German."

Senator Nelson asked Mr. Bielaski how he accounted for Hearst's attitude. The witness said it probably was because Hearst always had been strongly anti-English and suspicious of anything English did. He added that it may also have been caused because of Hearst's friendship with von Bernstorff.

Dr. Fuhrer's report included on a list of "neutral" papers the New York Evening Mail, the Milwaukee Free Press, the Chicago Tribune, the Washington Post and the Hearst papers. Of these Fuhrer said, the Hearst papers were the most valuable as they had such a large number of readers and were printed in so many different cities.

Bielaski said Hearst called at the office of Dr. Albert in New York on June 24, 1915, but the witness did not know what the purpose was.

A letter from Hearst to von Bernstorff, in which he asked that arrangements be made for sending one of his most trusted operators to Germany, was read by Bielaski. Bernstorff replied that arrangements would be made immediately.

Bielaski said the only thing the department has to indicate that Hearst endeavored to get any favor in return for his support of Germany was that he was anxious that his papers be given the service of a special news association formed to send back news to the United States from abroad.

Senator King of Utah objected to the publication into the record of telegrams sent by Hearst to his editors in New York and elsewhere from Palm Beach, Fla., saying the messages were irrelevant. The committee held the matter in abeyance and will decide later whether they are to go into the record.

Replying to a question of Senator Overman, as to what Hearst did after the United States entered the war, Mr. Bielaski recalled his opposition to sending troops abroad.

Edwin Straus, Albert Lea, Minn., who was mentioned as a member of the German University league, today telegraphed the committee asserting his loyalty and asking that the telegram be included in the record.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said he plans to make a statement today in the senate regarding information presented last week by Mr. Bielaski that he favored the propaganda to stop munitions exports.

SAYS COLD WEATHER BRINGS RETURN OF INFLUENZA

Public Must Be Careful To Avoid A Second Epidemic. Easier To Prevent Than Cure. What To Do.

"Encouraging reports of the fewer cases of influenza in this vicinity should not allow us to relax our vigilance or to become careless in the belief that the danger is all over," says a well known authority. With the coming of cold weather there is apt to be a return of this frightful epidemic and its seriousness will depend on the extent of the precautions, taken by the public, to prevent infection.

When the air is full of influenza germs, you may be constantly breathing them into your nose and throat. But their danger may be avoided and you may make yourself practically immune to infection if you destroy the germ before it actually begins work in your blood.

During the recent serious epidemic, which hit Ogden so hard, most successful results were obtained by many through the simple breathing into the nose, throat and lungs of the medicated air of oil of Tyroline. Probably no better, safer or more sensible precaution against influenza, grippe, coughs, colds, bronchitis or catarrh of the nose and throat could be employed than to go now to the nearest drug store and get a complete Hyomei outfit consisting of a bottle of the pure oil of Hyomei and a little velvet pocket hard rubber inhaling device into which a few drops of the oil are poured.

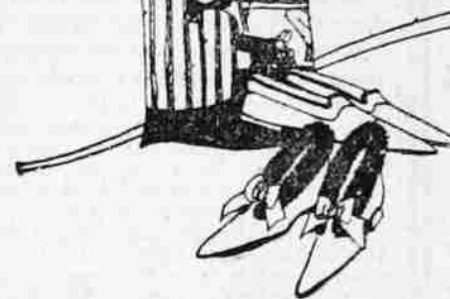

Carry this inhaler with you during the day and each half hour or so put it in your mouth and draw deep breaths of its pure healing germicidal air into the passages of your nose, throat and lungs to destroy any germs that may have found lodgement there. This simple precaution may save you a serious illness and the loss of several weeks' work. It is pleasant to use and not at all expensive as the inhaler will last a lifetime and further supplies of the Oil of Hyomei can be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Hundreds of people in this vicinity used Hyomei in this way during the recent crisis and avoided danger. They should not neglect it now for the danger is by no means over. Culey Drug Co.—Advertisement.

JOS. F. SMITH WILL FILED IN SALT LAKE

SALT LAKE, Dec. 10.—The will of the late Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of the
